TARGET INTRODUCES NEW GOLF REPRESENTATIVE

Klein brings technical expertise to golf and landscape accounts in Southern California

SANTA FE SPRINGS, Calif. – Ryan Klein is Target’s new account representative for the golf and sports turf markets in San Diego. A graduate of the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture, Klein earned a Bachelor of Science in Plant and Soil Science with an emphasis in Turfgrass Science and a Minor in Business from University of Kentucky Gatton College of Business and Economics.

Before joining Target, Klein worked as a Regional Territory Sales Consultant for Excell Minerals, a supplier of turf products, agricultural materials and specialty fertilizers in Cincinnati, Ohio. Additionally, Klein was a groundskeeper for Traditions Golf Club, an eighteen-hole course in Hebron, Kentucky.

“Ryan’s past experience working in the golf and sports turf industry, makes him the ideal candidate to service our golf and landscape customers in the San Diego region,” stated Branch Manager Lee Wozniak.

Klein works out of Target’s San Marcos, Calif. office. His territory includes San Diego and south Riverside County.
